

Is Your Job Fair Presentation already a Wunderkammer?

To help employers better measure aptitude and interest, and to help better connect youth that are often overlooked to jobs, we have developed this alternative to the traditional job fair. How is it different? Your current presentation may fit our program's criteria with little to no changes. Take this test to see how your organization scores.

One point for every "Yes"

Does your interactive allow for youth and presenter to engage in an activity together?

Yes / No

Does the interactive excite the passions of the presenter?

Yes / No

Does this activity allow for various outcomes to promote feedback, or additional guidance from the presenter?

Yes / No

Youth making something work instead of watching

1Activity can be as simple as methods of measuring

Can the engaging activity be completed in 10 to 15 mins?

Yes / No

Does the interactive allow youth to be engaged?

Yes / No

Does the interactive reflect some primary aspect of your work?

Yes / No

Do the presenters love their work and want to help others to enter their field?

Yes / No

Do the presenter and your display convey the benefits of your work? (both personal and professional)

Yes / No

Is your presentation team made up of two or more presenters?

Yes / No

2 Interactive: find the faulty wire.

3 Interactive: Use the orthoscope to find and remove the blockage in the pipe

Are your presenters willing to share stories regarding the opportunities they have enjoyed from their work in your field?

Yes / No

Can the activity take place with 2 to 3 other participants at the same time?
Yes / No

Do you have an item that participants can construct and take-away?
Yes / No

Could proficiency with this interactive represent potential proficiency in your field?
Yes / No

If you scored six or more points, you already have all the tools need to construct and staff a Wunderkammer. With a score of less than six, the staff at Sundance Family Foundation would be happy to help guild you through the process.